A large audience was present last light to see the winsome actress. Ullie Akerstrom, in "A Beautiful Slave," which will be presented again this evening. At the matinee to-day Miss Akerstrom will be seen in "The Pride of the Circus," and in the evening "A Beautiful Slave" will be repeated Those who attended the performance of "A Beautiful Slave" last night were much gratified with the star's clever acting. Miss Akerstrom's dresses were much admired, especially the heavy white moire antique worn in the ball room scene and the very handsome traveling dress in the second act of "A Beautiful Slave."

That the sable race has made great progress there can be no doubt, intelectually, physically and morally, but there is no better evidence of its ar-tistic development than in Sam T. Jack's Creole company, which is the attraction the last three days this week; matinee on Saturday.

Poll's Wonderland Theater. It is surely a congress of stars that s amusing all comers at Wonderland this week. Zenora and Foden do the most extraordinary things with their hands, walking, running, jumping, leaping, vaulting and waltzing in a way to astonish ordinary mortals. The five Pardos perform astounding feats on the bicycle, and they astonish every one when they introduce a diminutive clown of three years, who is a marvel. They also add to the novelty and picturesqueness of their act by introducing a riding bear. Watson and Hutchings present some clever German comedy, and Alonzo Hatch makes his ballads interesting by illustrating them with pretty stereopticon views. The La Porte sisters, Harry and Mary Odell, the Murray brothers, Miss Myrtle Tres-sider and Williams and Adams keep up the interest. Don't miss seeing the

SHE ENDED DERLIEF

Prevented From Taking Chloroform Woman Uses a Pistol. Boston, March 19 .- A woman thirty years old, who registered at the Adams house two days ago as Miss M. C. Nor ton of Holyoke, committed suicide at 2 o'clock this afternoon while in bed in her room. One of the maids noticed her inhaling chloroform and took the sponge away from her and then noti fied a physician, who arrived soon af ter and found the woman in bed. She had a bottle of chloroform and a spongs in her hand. The doctor took them away from her. She then asked: "Does chloroform always kill?"

"Not always," answered the doctor. She had the bedclothes pulled over her and one of her hands was under them. While the doctor was standing over her the woman shot herself with a revolver under the bedclothes. The bullet went through the heart. Nothing is known of the woman as the Adams house. She was not of 1 very prepossessing appearance.
